

COURTNEY ROCHELLE

ASSOCIATE

Courtney Rochelle is an associate in the Leesburg office. Her practice focuses on commercial litigation. Courtney has a proven track record across all phases of litigation, from complaint to trial and appeal.

Prior to joining the firm, Courtney spent six years as an associate at Paul, Weiss, where she worked on high-stakes civil matters, including antitrust, trade secrets, and complex contract disputes. Courtney has represented major clients in an array of industries including the technology, energy, and financial services sectors.

Outside of work, Courtney spends time with her husband, son and two doodles. She also enjoys hiking, yoga, puzzles and listening to true crime podcasts.
