

DINI MCCULLOUGH

OF COUNSEL

Dini McCullough Amozurrutia is Of Counsel at Dunlap, Bennett & Ludwig, where she focuses on small business and corporate matters, counseling entrepreneurs and closely held companies on formation, contracts, governance, and everyday legal needs. She pairs more than 25 years as a practicing attorney with firsthand experience as a business owner: in 2021 she founded Dini's Divine Pies, an artisanal pie company she built through pop-ups and wholesale partnerships across the DC area. That background gives her a practical, owner's-eye view of what small business clients actually face. Admitted to practice in Maryland and fluent in English and Spanish, she is also the founder of Origins Literary Journal and writes on food, identity, and culture.
